

Digital Inclusion Programme

Wed 7th Dec

10:30-11:30

About the session

In the session we will share more information about the programme aims and outcomes, and our early plans for engaging and involving people throughout the programme.

We will also share a set of 'pillars' on digital inclusion we have been developing.

We are looking forward to hearing your ideas and having your input!

About the programme

Digital inclusion means ensuring that everyone has the opportunity and motivation to develop their skills and confidence and can access an appropriate device and connectivity to do the things they want to do online. It is key to social inclusion, human support and connection.

We are developing a new programme focusing on Digital Inclusion in the areas of Mental Health and Housing that we hope to launch in Spring 2023. We are using the Scottish Approach to Service Design in the programme so that we can understand how best to support digital inclusion in Mental Health and Housing.

What we'd like to talk about in the session ...

We are really looking forward to hearing your thoughts and having your expertise shape how we take the programme forward! We thought it might be helpful to share some information about what we'd like to talk about together.

Our programme aim is:

"By 2024, we will develop, test and implement a range of digital inclusion models that enable people to access mental health and housing supports (and wider services) and feel empowered, digitally confident and experience improved wellbeing through the wider opportunities and connections to communities that digital inclusion brings."

Thinking about the aim of the programme, what areas of mental health and housing could digital inclusion have the greatest impact on people's lives?

How can we best engage with and involve people throughout the programme?

We are also developing a set of 'pillars' for digital inclusion and we are keen to hear your thoughts and reflections on these in the session:

Session take aways

We hope that the session will be interesting, enjoyable and an opportunity to learn together.

We deeply appreciate having your input into the programme direction and areas of focus.

Thank you for your contribution
